Read a book...

about America	on a Friday	while eating outside	by your favorite author	that you've read before written by someone named Kevin	about someone who's creative	with a red, white, and blue cover	that's a fairy tale	that takes place in winter that's heavy	with the word "little" in the title	because you like the pictures	that has more than 30 pages	in your favorite reading spot about someone smart	that takes place in summer	to someone older than you	while sitting under a tree	about going camping

Color in each reading challenge after you finish reading the book.
