My Reading Goal for March

Read a book...

that takes place in the spring	while wearing something green	two times in a row	with a new friend	about someone who gets in trouble on a Monday afternoon	written by someone named David	while it's raining	with a one-word title	to yourself while looking in the mirror with a tree on the cover	about bugs	while sitting in your closet	that you think is funny	with a green cover while eating something healthy	that your teacher recommended to you	written and illustrated by the same person	that won an award	that takes place in the past

Color in each reading challenge after you finish reading the book.
