Directions:

In Pumpkin Soup, Cat, Duck, and Squirrel went through lots of different emotions while making their soup. Think about how Cat, Duck, and Squirrel felt at different times—were they happy, sad, or maybe even frustrated? Draw a face and name the emotion to tell what each character felt at different parts of the story.

Setting	 Duck's Feelings	 Cat's Feelings	 Squirrel's Feelings
At the beginning in the Old White Cabin	Happy and excited to make the soup.	Calm and ready to do his part.	Content and focused on making everything perfect.
In the surrounding woods	Sad and frustrated because he wanted to try a new job.	Worried and upset about Duck leaving.	Frustrated and anxious, feeling like things are not going right.
At the Riverbank	Lonely and a bit scared being out on his own.	Determined and hopeful while looking for Duck.	Concerned but starting to realize how much they miss Duck.
In the Pumpkin Patch	Unsure if his friends still want him to help.	Regretful about arguing and eager to make things right.	Feeling apologetic and wishing things could be like before.
Back at the Old White Cabin	Happy to be back and excited to make soup with friends again.	Relieved and joyful to have everyone back together.	Thankful and happy, realizing how important their friendship is.
