

Name: _____ Date: _____

Directions: In the book When I Am Old with You, the boy imagined doing a lot of activities with his granddaddy. Read each box. Cut out and paste a rocking chair on the box if it tells about an event that happened in the book.

We'll drink cool water from a jug and wave at all the cars that go by.

When I am old with you, Granddaddy, we'll ride our bikes to the ocean and watch the dolphins splash in the waves.

We'll watch the geese fly high as they return to the north in the fall.

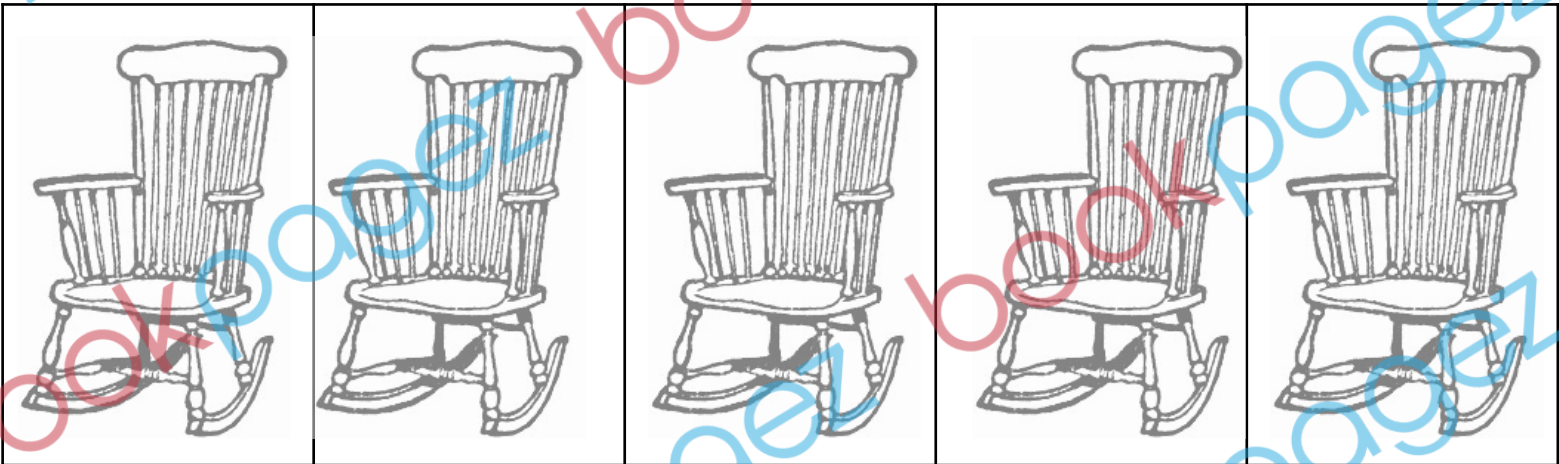

We can look at the old pictures and try to imagine the people in them.

We can eat ice cream on the back porch and smell the sweet honeysuckle.

In the evening we can roast corn on a big fire and invite everyone we know to come over and eat it.

In the mornings, Granddaddy, we will cook bacon for breakfast and that's all.

We can fish beside the pond or take that old canoe out.

Answer Key

Directions: In the book When I Am Old with You, the boy imagined doing a lot of activities with his granddaddy. Read each box. Cut out and paste a rocking chair on the box if it tells about an event that happened in the book.

We'll drink cool water from a jug and wave at all the cars that go by.

When I am old with you, Granddaddy, we'll ride our bikes to the ocean and watch the dolphins splash in the waves.

We'll watch the geese fly high as they return to the north in the fall.

We can look at the old pictures and try to imagine the people in them.

We can eat ice cream on the back porch and smell the sweet honeysuckle.

In the evening we can roast corn on a big fire and invite everyone we know to come over and eat it.

In the mornings, Granddaddy, we will cook bacon for breakfast and that's all.

We can fish beside the pond or take that old canoe out.

